

HERE'S WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FORWARD TO AT THE SPRING HIGH POINT MARKET

In advance of the semiannual furniture fair this weekend, we've rounded up 10 new launches that caught our eye.

By PARKER BOWIE LARSON JUN 4, 2021

In this exciting season of reopening, one event we're looking forward to the most is the return of the High Point Market, America's largest furniture trade show, which begins tomorrow, June 5, and runs through Wednesday, June 9. It's the place for a who's who of American furniture makers to show off their newest wares. But don't let the suburban North Carolina location fool you—it's also one of the most internationally minded trade shows in this country.

To honor the design community that is now reuniting—in person!—High Point Market has upped the ante this spring. There'll be the Design Oasis, created by firms Allen and James Interior Design, Dwell by Cheryl Interiors, Stacy Garcia, and Karen Elizabeth Designs, using outdoor furniture exclusively from fair exhibitors; a fleet of food trucks around town will encourage outdoor dining (and, as those in the know are aware, will be a welcome culinary addition); and, of course, there will be a world-class assortment of new furniture reveals, including collabs with a number of ELLE DECOR's A-List interior designers. Here's a sneak peek of the launches you won't want to miss.

10

DOROTHY DRAPER & CO. FOR KINDEL GRAND RAPIDS

Courtesy of Kindel Furniture

Carleton Varney is adding new pieces to the Dorothy Draper & Co. collection for Kindel Grand Rapids. This grand American-inspired dining chair looks as though it could be real White House material.